Painting title: Hard Edge by Leah Lubin, author and artist

Written on the Edge

While living in Santa Cruz, California on a wave, with surfers, hippies and freaks, good neighbors,
great local poets, strange downtown dilemmas,
I settle down for ten months of creating poetry
written on the edge.

What else can you remember you might ask?
Well, I especially remember the mix of colors,
emotions, strange inner conflicts and confusion.

Really? Tell us more.

Well, it's like a long search on an ocean of creativity that only partially represents your truth.

Complicated and confusing you wander around searching and yes, finding.

Some questions answered.

Some not.

Then what happened?

Well hang on.

I am still processing it all.

OK. I understand.

Let me know how it all ends.

I will.

About Leah Lubin

Leah Lubin is an author and artist. Born in Haifa, Israel in 1951, she moved to England when she was six years old. By the time she was 14, she knew that she wanted to be an artist, and at the age of 17, she enrolled in the Barnet College of Art, part of the London University system. She moved to the United States in 1979, and became an American citizen in 1986. Leah now makes her home in California.
