Earth School by Leah Lubin

Home School,

Earth School.

Life on the line.

We are finally figuring out the truth.

It's no picnic down here.

Apparently these hardships and lessons mean something.

So is the plan to move forward you ask?

Well, sort of, but what you think is important sometimes isn't.

So what's the point?

I think it is to keep going by learning and questioning yourself and others.

Then what happens?

Does it eventually get easier?

On some levels, yes.

But generally speaking there seems to be a path that can be called self improvement.

We take what we now understand as our personal truth which helps lead us.

Do we eventually graduate and is there a diploma involved?

Not sure, but when it becomes clear,

I will let you know.
